

Dear Superintendents,

As many schools across the state approach the end of the first six weeks of school, the UIL is offering the following guidance related to “Incomplete” grades for no pass/no play. State law requires that all schools check grades for students participating in extracurricular activities at the end of the first six weeks of school. While that will not change, the UIL, in consultation with TEA, is extending the grace period at the end of the grading period from seven days to fourteen days for “Incomplete” grades to be made up or changed to a passing grade before a student loses eligibility. This change is for the 2020-21 school year only.

For exact language of the change and further information, please visit the UIL website <https://www.uil texas.org/policy/covid-19>. Please feel free to contact the UIL staff with any questions.

Thank you,
